REAL ID Extended to May 7, 2025

The Department of Homeland Security extended the REAL ID deadline to May 7, 2025. The REAL ID Act established minimum security standards for state-issued driver's licenses and identification cards and prohibits Federal agencies from accepting for official purposes licenses and identification cards from states that do not meet these standards. Beginning May 7, 2025, every state and territory resident will need to present a REAL ID compliant license/ID, or another acceptable form of ID for boarding commercial aircraft, accessing Federal facilities and entering nuclear plants. The Transportation Security Administration (TSA) considers a current passport or military ID acceptable identification for boarding an aircraft. For more information on Kentucky's REAL ID compliant license, visit Drive.ky.gov.

DISCOVER CANADIAN ROCKIES BY RAIL

Bucket list trip highlighted by multiple journeys

Alaska's unrivaled allure radiates on land and sea

SURF AND TURF is synonymous with extravagant dining. It's succulent seafood combined with a tender filet served in a setting meant for royalty. It's a meal as memorable as it is delicious.

Now imagine that same scenario – but this time, it pertains to your next vacation. It's a trip that combines land and sea to create the ultimate travel experience. Wanderlust satisfied from all directions – whether it's on terra firma or blue waters.

Or in this case, both.

AAA is offering five packages that combine land and cruise tours of Alaska – aka The Last Frontier, Land of the Midnight Sun or The Great Land. It's a territory blessed with more nicknames than a famous celebrity. The trips range from 11 to 13 nights, with seven of those nights spent on Royal Caribbean's Radiance of the Seas.

The cost (per person double occupancy) of the trips varies. Grand Mountain Marvels (June 1-14) is $3,369. Mountain Panorama Adventure (June 14-26) is $2,990. Alaska Wilderness Spectacular (July 13-26) is $3,260. Grand Mountain Marvels (August 9-22) is $3,059. And Alaska Wilderness Spectacular (August 23-September 5) is $2,970. Flights are not included. You can speak with a AAA Travel Advisor for pricing on flights.

Alaska ranks high on bucket lists among U.S. destinations. Its natural beauty creates a work of art from all directions. Snowcapped mountains rise from the landscapes. Varieties of wildlife roam unsettled lands dotted with lakes, streams and lush forests.

Image: Royal Caribbean

Fjords, glaciers and unique villages comprise locations that only can be explained by personal experiences. Your legs may move you, but your eyes will guide you to witness some of the most beautiful sights worldwide.

"To the lover of wilderness, Alaska is one of the most wonderful countries in the world," once said renowned naturalist John Muir.

Alaska is a place of wonder. Our country's largest state has fewer than 700,000 citizens, making such a massive land seem intimately storytelling. A day in the wilderness provides a lifetime of satisfaction. And a lifetime of satisfaction delivers a day you'll never forget.

Visit a host of Alaska's hotspots via glass-domed Wilderness Express, riverboat, motor coach or just by taking a stroll. Hike rare terrains, raft down rough rivers or kayak in calmer waters.

Travel into the unspoiled wilderness of Denali National Park and Preserve. Keep alert for wildlife

Porch pirates primed to take packages

Steps to protect you from thieves lurking neighborhoods

By Robin Jones

Cyber Monday kicks off the busy season for more than just online retailers and delivery services. It also opens high season for porch pirates.

Of course, thieves who steal packages from homes operate year-round, but they're particularly active during the holidays. If you order gifts online, you risk becoming one of their victims. But there are ways to protect your purchases, including:

Have your packages delivered to a secure location – Many retailers allow you to opt for in-store pickup when you order online. You also can have packages sent to a UPS store or U.S. Postal Service (USPS) office, designated brick-and-mortar retailers, or to an Amazon Locker facility. Your apartment complex's leasing office also might accept packages.

Sign up for delivery alerts – Some retailers will send you an email or text when your package is dropped off, and most delivery services have apps that allow you to track packages. That way, you can make sure you are home to receive the package or you can ask a neighbor to collect it for you.

Install a security camera – A front-door camera alone might discourage package pirates. Even if it doesn't, it will record the theft and give you evidence to bolster any claim you make.

Place a lockbox at your doorstep – This large container can be bolted to your property. After placing a package inside, a delivery person can secure it with a combination lock. If a package is stolen, you have a few avenues for resolution, including:

Contact the retailer who sold you the item – Many sellers will provide a replacement or refund if you call customer service and explain what

File a claim with the delivery service – If the retailer doesn't respond or attempt to resolve the issue, you can reach out to the outfit that delivered the package. FedEx, UPS, DHL and the USPS allow you to submit a claim for lost, damaged or delayed packages.

Call your credit card company – Most credit cards provide purchase protection, which reimburses you for items that are damaged or stolen, as long as you paid for the item entirely on the card and file the claim within a certain number of days of the purchase. Some high-value items aren't covered, though, and some credit card companies require you to file a police report or insurance claim first.

Talk to your insurance agent – A package stolen from your porch was on your property, so it is covered by your homeowners or rental insurance. However, your deductible applies if you file a claim, as do any limits on certain items.

Tragedies up importance of Move Over law

Not taking precaution leading to deaths of emergency responders

Slow down! And move over! It's a simple request, one that drivers should have no trouble following, particularly as the holiday season approaches. Too often, it's ignored, especially when it comes to roadside-assistance workers.

An average of 24 emergency responders, including tow providers, are struck and killed by vehicles while working at the roadside each year – meaning someone is killed, on average, every other week.

In 2019, 44 emergency responders in the U.S. – including 14 tow-truck drivers – died after being hit as they were working by the roadside.

Startling data from the AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety finds that among drivers who do not comply with Move Over laws, 42% thought this behavior was somewhat or not dangerous to emergency-roadside workers. This demonstrates that drivers may not realize how risky it is for those working or stranded along highways near moving traffic.

To protect these individuals, AAA and other traffic-safety advocates worked tirelessly to get Move Over laws passed in all 50 states and the District of Columbia. Yet, the AAA Foundation finds that nearly a quarter of those surveyed (23%) are unaware of the Move Over law in the state in which they live.

Meanwhile, among those who are aware of their state's Move Over laws, 15% report not understanding the potential consequences for violating the law.

TAKE CAUTION – A tow truck driver loads a disabled vehicle. Drivers approaching emergency-roadside workers should use caution and respect their state's Move Over law. Image: Adobe Stock.

The cost of fines varies from state to state, but they can be expensive. Penalty points could be added, as well as a misdemeanor charge for failure to move over or slow down when approaching an emergency vehicle, tow truck, utility vehicle or road-maintenance vehicle with flashing lights on the side of the road.

These tragic accidents extend beyond tow providers and emergency responders. More than 1,600 people have been struck and killed while outside a disabled vehicle since 2015.

Drivers are increasingly distracted while driving. Previous AAA Foundation research found that motorists are as much as four times as likely to crash if they are talking on a cell phone while driving and eight times as likely to be in a crash if texting.

AAA clubs have participated in educational initiatives regarding Move Over laws by creating public-service announcements and contacting state officials. AAA is committed to raising awareness of Move Over laws and the dangers associated with working at the roadside.

These laws require drivers to move over one lane or slow down when approaching an incident where tow providers, police, firefighters or emergency-medical-service crews are working at the roadside. Many states also have expanded their laws to cover vehicles like utility and municipal fleets, as well as disabled vehicles.

To protect roadside workers, drivers with disabled vehicles and others, AAA offers these precautionary tips:

- Remain alert, avoid distractions and focus on the task of driving.
- Keep an eye out for situations where emergency vehicles, tow trucks, utility-service vehicles or disabled vehicles are stopped on the side of the road.
- When you see these situations, slow down and, if possible, move over one lane and away from the people and vehicles stopped on the side of the road.

Slow down! And move over! It could save a life.

Experience It! Monteverde Cloud Forest

Only four places in the world boast an ecosystem so unique that it produces a cloud forest, and Costa Rica is one of them. Situated high on a mountain, the Monteverde Cloud Forest is created by the forest's dry air combining with the humid, hot air of the rainforest. The result is a blanket of clouds that covers the forest, mimicking constant rainfall. This extremely wet environment has bred a diverse world of exotic flora and fauna. One of the cloud forest's golden beak and a green-hooded head, tail feathers of gray, black, and white, and a vibrant scarlet breast. Highly elusive, quetzal sightings are rare, but absolutely unforgettable when attained.

Winter chill can put battery in a bind

AAA replacements reliable, ease your concerns

It shouldn't be assumed the 2023-24 winter season will be similar to last season's. It's likely snow and colder temperatures could be on the horizon. Frigid wind-chills and icy conditions add to the wear and tear on vehicles, particularly batteries.

It's an ideal time to have your car's battery tested to be assured it's ready for the upcoming winter season. Batteries are delicate and could lose charge with the first wave of chilly conditions. Cold and damp weather can take a toll on an electrical system overburdened by defrosts, windshield wipers and lights. It's never too early to be prepared.

Lead-acid batteries' lifespans depend on a variety of factors, but only 30% of new ones will last three years. Batteries must work under temperature extremes and withstand constant shocks and vibrations.

It might seem as if batteries that are used less often should have better lifespans, but that isn't always the case. Batteries could drain more quickly if the car is driven 20 minutes or fewer, causing the battery never to fully charge. Batteries that are deeply discharged or rest idly for long periods of time are more vulnerable to sulfation, a buildup of lead-sulphate crystals, the primary cause of premature-battery failure.

New cars require a steady flow of electricity to control multiple onboard computers and powertrain features, such as stop-start technology, heated seats, wireless hotspots and video displays that keep the vehicle running smoothly. Reduced hours of daylight result in more use of headlights and heating – all of which take tolls on the battery's power reserve.

The battery should be replaced to help prevent a future roadside emergency if you notice a dimming of interior lights or a clicking noise when turning over the transmission. Have a trained technician clean the battery cables and check that the electrical system is charging correctly.

AAA Battery Service offers fast, accurate and convenient mobile-battery testing and replacement. State-of-the-art diagnostic equipment will confirm whether the battery will hold a charge, or if the problem lies deeper in the electrical system.

This service is included in your AAA membership. If necessary, and with your approval, a new, high-quality AAA battery will be installed immediately and onsite.

AAA Battery Service vehicles carry batteries compatible with 90% of all cars, SUVs and light trucks. And each AAA-branded battery is covered by an unprecedented nationwide 36-month, free-replacement warranty.

Our Instant Quote battery-price calculator on AAA.com will provide you member and nonmember pricing for your vehicle's battery, reflecting your exclusive AAA discount. Every battery AAA replaces – more than 2 million since 2021 – is safely recycled to protect the environment.

FOR MORE INFORMATION

If your battery is failing you, give yourself the added peace of mind by calling the AAA Battery Service for a no-cost evaluation. AAA Battery Service is available from 6 a.m. to 11 p.m. 7-days a week. To verify AAA Battery Service availability in your area, call our toll-free number: 1-800-222-4357.

on the Denali Natural History Tour and stare in awe at Denali – the highest peak in North America, rising 20,310 feet.

Witness the Chena River by boat, stop by Talkeetna – considered one of Alaska's "funkiest" small towns – to visit a main street inundated with roadhouse restaurants, cafes, brew pubs and shops.

Visit the acclaimed Anchorage Museum before taking a brief tour of Alaska's largest city. See the Chugach Mountains. Discover Seward – one of the state's oldest communities – or hike a trail that approaches a glacier. You can hear the ice crackling.

These places barely scratch the surface of Alaska's dense personality. It's one so deep, it cuts into the core of the earth.

Alyeska offers a rich variety of marine species. Stroll through the forest and along mountain trails abloom with wildflowers in Girdwood and enjoy water views of the Turnagain Arm and Cook Inlet. Dig deeper into the 49th state's history and heritage in Fairbanks.

Alaska's story is a chapter-filled masterpiece. Each one enlightens your curiosities and leaves you yearning to absorb its mystical traits.

That's why cruising it by sea is considered just as satisfying as trekking it by land. Seven nights on Radiance of the Seas will enhance Alaska's mysteries from different perspectives.

Your cruise embarks from Vancouver or Seward, depending on your itinerary. Radiance of the Seas is a floating resort that boasts myriad activities. Gaze at glaciers while unwinding in one of the Solarium's whirlpools. Entertain yourself in its Casino Royale, see a Broadway show or visit a nightclub.

Enjoy first-class dishes from its main dining rooms or signature restaurants. Take advantage of their eclectic menus that are sure to satisfy your tastebuds.

Sail to Alaskan destinations that will enhance your trip. See cities and small towns, glaciers and waterways, including Inside Passage. It stretches more than 500 miles from the Puget Sound into the Gulf of Alaska. Shaped by glaciers, the landscapes are comprised of mountains, crisp blue icebergs, deep fjords and more than 1,000 islands.

Few cruise ships visit Sitka, but it's a stop well worth taking. The picturesque town has a rich-Russian heritage and a host of historical attractions.

Ketchikan is labeled the "Salmon Capital of the World". Culture-hungry cruisers can witness the largest collection of standing totem poles globally. See humpback whales off the coast during the summer.

Mountains coated with vibrant green landscapes surround Juneau. It's home to the Alaska State Museum. Hike up Mount Roberts for panoramic views across the city or hop on the Mount Roberts Tramway and ride to its apex.

Witness Hubbard Glacier – the largest tidewater glacier in North America. It calves throughout the summer and towers over passing cruise ships.

Miners once flocked to Skagway. Its historic district houses 100 buildings from the gold-rush era, making it a fascinating stop.

Haines, meanwhile, is simply breathtaking. The sun peeks above beautiful mountains that rest above thick forests. Kayak in its calm lakes, spot the American Bald Eagle, as well as other species, fish or visit its art galleries.

Alaska moves our minds in ways we didn't believe were possible. It nearly sits on top of the world, reminding us that it has few peers and even fewer blemishes.

AAA to provide roadside services through Apple

Members can receive assistance via satellite on iPhone 15, 14

Users of the newly announced Apple iPhone 15 and iPhone 14 now can get access to Roadside Assistance via satellite by utilizing AAA services.

AAA is one of North America's largest and most-trusted membership organizations. It responds to more than 30 million calls for roadside assistance annually and serves more than 63 million members. By working with Apple, AAA will be able to reach people who may otherwise be unable to receive help.

"Safety is at the core of who AAA is as an organization, and we're taking that commitment to the next level by offering AAA services to iPhone users who would have previously been unreachable," said Marshall Doney, president and CEO, AAA. "Now, thanks to iPhone's satellite capabilities, iPhone users with Roadside Assistance via satellite can get help when they need it most but can't reach us via traditional connections."

iPhone users who request roadside assistance can be connected via satellite with AAA after answering a few questions to capture important details. Users will receive clear guidance on how to stay connected to a satellite. It will allow them to message with a AAA agent and receive important information about the status of their request.

APPLE SKY – AAA Members soon will have access to roadside assistance via satellite through iPhone 15 and iPhone 14 phones. This will better assist members broken down in areas that don't have connectivity. Image: Joshua Resnick. Adobe Stock.

"We know firsthand how stressful it is to be stranded with a breakdown, especially if you find yourself in a remote location or without cell service," said Doney. "Your options are limited – walk to a service point or area with cellular connectivity or Wi-Fi, which can be miles away, or attempt to flag another motorist down. Apple's satellite infrastructure is an innovative solution that is already providing critical emergency support to iPhone users, and AAA is proud to offer Roadside Assistance via satellite in partnership with Apple."

Marshall Doney,
AAA president and CEO

Roadside Assistance via satellite will be available on all iPhone 15 and iPhone 14 users in the U.S., regardless of whether they are a AAA Member. Once the questionnaire is received, AAA Members will be verified and service will be provided. Nonmembers will be responsible for payment upon completion of the service.

Roadside Assistance via satellite is built on the groundbreaking technology that powers Emergency SOS by satellite, launched by Apple in 2022. It allows iPhone 14 and iPhone 15 users to access emergency services via satellite when cellular coverage or Wi-Fi is unavailable.

Route 93 always heads in right direction

Western highway boasts more stops than a bus route

Road trips reward travelers with an up-close gift that unlocks a surprise sure to result into a treasure trove of memories.

A kaleidoscope of landscapes swiftly change settings along the way. Snowcapped mountains transform into lush forests, vast deserts or unique towns.

North America is teeming with vast highways. Miles of pavement open doors to fresh experiences, and few do it better than Route 93.

It's a border-to-border road trip – covering more than 2,200 miles – that begins in western Canada and concludes on the U.S.-Mexico border. It can be driven, without stopping, in 38 hours, but that leaves out all the fun. Travelers should plan for at least 10 days. There's too much to see to cut it short.

Drive from the rugged north through college towns and big cities. Scale mountains and plunge into valleys. See dormant volcanoes, lakeshores and historic sites. Learn about the Wild West. The run between Jasper National Park in Canada to Nogales, Mexico is brimming with magnificence, wildlife, protected lands and a myriad of characters.

Jasper National Park is more than 2 million acres and the largest of its kind in the Canadian Rockies. The limestone walls of Maligne Canyon, Angel Glacier, Spirit Island, Miette Hot STUNNING – Mountains hover over one of the more than 700 lakes at Glacier National Park, an essential stop off Route 93. Image: ricktravel. Adobe Stock.

Springs and Cavell Meadows highlight the park's beauty.

Snow-covered mountains reflect off the turquoise waters of Lake Louise in Banff National Park. Witness glaciers, azure lakes and crashing waterfalls. The summer season allows visitors to bike, hike, fish and mountain climb. Scuba dive to see a submerged Victorian resort village in Lake Minnewanka.

Cross the border into Montana. A nature theme continues at Glacier National Park, where spring wildflowers, autumn leaves or winter wonderlands surround more than 700 lakes. Conquer the curves of Going-to-the-Sun Road but do it with caution.

Scorching lava, cinder and spattered cones, and rock bombs transport visitors to another universe at Craters of the Moon National Monument in Idaho. Short trails send visitors up the windy Inferno Cone to catch a glimpse of the Great Rift.

Route 93 becomes known as Great Basin Highway in Nevada. Towns are scarce, but the history is deep. Stop by Pioche's Million Dollar Courthouse or Caliente's Mission Revival railroad depot. Ward Charcoal Ovens is six still-standing beehive kilns used to make charcoal for smelters in the 1870s.

Great Basin National Park redefines remote road trip. Located off Route 50 – aka "The Loneliest Road in America" – travelers can see thousand-year-old Bristlecone pines and stalactites in Lehman Caves. It's lack of light pollution provides the best visibility of the Milky Way in the continental U.S.

Lights shine no brighter than in Las Vegas. See a show, visit its laundry list of museums, take a seat at a gaming table or just absorb its decadence. Stop by Hoover Dam when leaving. It's well worth it.

The Titan Missile Museum in Sahuarita, Arizona once was one of the most-secret sites in America. The gallery is all that remains of the 54 Titan II missile silos that were the first line of defense against nuclear attacks during the Cold War. Tours take guests underground to the control center and to the silo to see the Titan.

The trip concludes in Nogales – on both sides of the border. The Hilltop Gallery ranks among the finest stops. It's exhibited artists from both countries for more than five decades. A historic ceremony on the Arizona side observes Dia De Los Muertos – a two-day holiday that reunites the living with the dead.

Route 93 – it borders on perfection.

Things to know before renting an EV

AAA lays out blueprint to make sure all goes well

Better pricing, knowledge and accessibility are driving consumers to purchase electric vehicles. They've gone from becoming high-end toys to reasonably priced, everyday cars.

EVs provide a number of benefits. Consumers who drive them spend as much as 60% less on fuel costs annually than those who drive gas cars, according to AAA. EVs also are better for the environment.

EVs even are trickling into the rental market. Consumers are finding that renting an EV while on vacation is a smart way to test whether one is for them. AAA offers advice to those considering renting EV.

Make sure you understand how EVs work – The operation of an EV is different from a gasoline-powered vehicle. An electrically powered vehicle immediately accelerates as opposed to a more gradual acceleration. Another difference is how they are fueled. EVs require charging stations that are found via your smartphone in public areas like parking garages and shopping malls. Some might offer free charging. It's wise to be conscience of where charging stations can be found.

Consider range of EV carefully –

ELECTRIFYING – Be sure to have a solid understanding of EVs before renting one. Image: AAA.

Different models come with different ranges and choosing one that meets your needs is essential. Considered a model that comes with an extended range if you are taking a long road trip. Some models include features that increase the range of your vehicle. Most EVs can travel as much as 300 miles on a full charge.

Don't forget about insurance when renting an EV – Insurance often is overlooked when renting an EV. Making sure you have the proper coverage is essential. This will help protect your finances if something happens while driving the vehicle and provide peace of mind and assurance you are adequately covered. Speak with a AAA Travel Advisor to ensure you have adequate coverage.

EVs are the eco-friendly option – EVs have lower running costs and produce significantly fewer emissions, making them an eco-friendly and cost-effective option. EVs can produce zero tailpipe emissions, meaning they produce less harm to the environment than traditional gas-engine vehicles.

Expect that the experience will be different – Most people need to become more accustomed to EVs and all the nuances with which they come. Expect the driving experience to change and take time to feel fully comfortable behind the wheel.

Tips for renting an EV – Check the charging infrastructure of the area you plan to visit. Most EVs come with a charging cable and plug for use at home, but you might need additional cabling if you plan to use public-charging stations. Also consider the cost benefits of renting an EV. Charging the EV should be cheaper than filling it up with gas, which should reduce your overall rental costs. And don't forget about the insurance. Many rental companies offer special packages for EVs but read the fine print carefully before signing up. It's also important to be aware of any restrictions.
